FROM THE BACK PEW!

*How Are You Going To Win... If You Are Not Right Within!
Without Spiritual Growth... Numerical Growth Won't Happen!*

Hebrews 3:12-13

Beware, brethren, lest there be any of you an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the living GOD, but exhort one another daily while it is called "today", lest any of you be hardened through deceitfulness of sin.

1 Corinthians 5:11

But now I have written to you not to keep company with anyone named a brother who is sexually immoral, covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner-not even to eat with such a person.

2 John 1:10

If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting,

1 Corinthians 15:33

Do not be deceived, evil company corrupt good habits.

Romans 12:2

And do not be formed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of GOD.

1 Peter 5:8

Be sober, be vigilant because your adversary the devil walks about like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour.

Acts 17:11

These were more fair minded than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness and searched the scriptures daily to find out whether these things were so.

In order to know who we must associate with, we need to know the scriptures. We should be like the Bereans. To accept what someone says because you have known them for years or you think they won't tell you anything wrong; that they know the scriptures is putting your soul in jeopardy of hell fire and damnation.

The Pressure of Social Media

June 21, 2026 Article By Robert Lupo

When I was growing up, I was constantly reminded by my parents, my teachers, and my church leaders to resist peer pressure. I was told, “Evil company corrupts good morals” (1 Corinthians 15:33). This was certainly good advice. Our peers can hold a tremendous amount of power over a young person. They want to be liked and feel like they belong. So, when a crowd shows them a certain amount of acceptance, they may conform to any number of trends or habits within that group.

When I was in high school, the number of peers that might have influence over me was probably somewhere around fifty. I had close friends in the youth group at church and in the drama club at school. Back then, MySpace was the only social media platform and all of the friends I had there were the same people I knew in real life. My world of influence would be considered pretty small by today’s standards. But, that was still enough to sway me to make several detrimental mistakes in my youth.

The peer pressure we had as children doesn’t come close to comparing to what today’s youth are facing. Not only do our children have pressure from friends they know in real life, but they also receive pressure from millions of social media influencers and users tailored to prey on their most base curiosities. Every Google search they make or website they visit is recorded and sent to social media platforms to shape what pages, profiles, and forum threads they are recommended and what ads they see. Any doubt or question they have about morality could bring them to a page with thousands of people with different religious values, upvoting the most popular takes.

We need to understand what this kind of influence is having on children today. According to the news site, The Hill, “The CDC says the number of LGBTQ students went from 11 percent in 2015 to 26 percent in 2021.” How did we get to a point where one in four teens is openly identifying as LGBTQ? It is the pressure of social media.

For the first time in history, our children have been given a popularity-based system of measuring their worth. What matters is not how many of my friends compliment me or invite me to hang out. What matters is how many ‘likes’ my post gets from complete strangers. The more shocking the post, the better the reception.

“Evil company corrupts good morals.”

What kind of company are your kids keeping online? They may have ten friends at church.

How many friends do they have on Instagram?
